NEWARK, OHIO, THURSDAY EVENING, AUGUST 8, 1907.

TEN CENTS A WEEK.

MAMMOTH FLEET OF WAR SHIPS TO PACIFIC COAST

LEAKED OUT AT WASHINGTON THAT NAVY FORCE IS TO BE MOBILIZED.

EASTERN FLEET CALLED BACK

New Order Will Leave Our Eastern Possessions Unprotected by Naval Force.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Surprising revelations were made today through the disclosure of the hitherto well guarded plans of the administration to begin at once the mobilization in Pacific coast waters of the most powerful cruiser fleet ever assembled. Orders have been issued for almost the entire strength of the Asiatic squadron to be brought across the Pacific, two new monster
cruisers, the California and South Dakota will shortly be ready for service;
the St. Louis is now making her way up the west coast, and the Washington and Tennessee will start out to join them before the close of August.

In accordance with the plans, the people of California will shortly have the opportunity of viewing sixteen modern and capable fighting ships, eight of the world's largest armored cruisers, and an equal number of formidable protected cruisers, before Rear Admiral Evans sails out from Hampton Roads with his sixteen monster battleships to join them.

This new Pacific fleet will be under the command of Rear Admiral James H. Dayton, who will leave Manila shortly with four of the heavy armed cruisers.

Officers of the navy express the opinion that the mobilization is for the purpose of defending the Pacific coast, should Japan resent the movements of Admiral Evans' fleet of battleships.

If Japanese should see fit to strike
a sudden blow, the Philippines and other possessions would be left to her mercy so far as the navy is concerned, as it is plainly apparent the present force in the far east would not be sufficient to cope with a formidable enemy and to attempt to strengthen that force materially would doubtless be resented by Japan
as an unfriendly act.

The early mobilization of the Dayton fleet is expected to prevent a possible enemy sailing across the Pacific and at no time will Admiral Evans
be so far away from the Atlantic coast that he could not turn about and arrive in time for defense, in case a hostile fleet were dispatched from the far east through the Suez.

The composition of the new Pacific fleet will be as follows:

First division: First squadron under command of Rear Admiral James H. Dayton: West Virginia, Colorado,
Maryland, Pennsylvania.

Second division: Tennessee, Wash-

Third division: St. Louis, Charleston, Milwaukee, Chicago.

Fourth division: Cincinnati, Baltimore, New Orleans, Albany.

These plans will bring together off the coast of California, by the end of December, four divisions of four vessels each presenting an aggregate of 159,336 tons, and an aggregate of 250 guns of four inches and over.
Admiral Evans' 16 battleships have an aggregate of 233,436 tons, and a total number of 356 guns of four inches and over.

ONE OF THE FAMOUS OPPENHEIMS DYING

New York, Aug. 8.—Abraham Op-penheim, millionaire and heir to another vast fortune, is believed to be dying today, following his attempt at suicide late yesterday. The bullet he fired into his head will be probed for today. Beyond a hint at a possible love affair, as Oppenheim is a bachelor, there is no explanation. He is head of a well established business,
and was possessed of a happy nature.
His attempt was made at the Hotel Belle Claire in upper Broadway. After shooting himself, he called Miss Ethel Saxe on the phone saying he believed he was dying and asking that she send a doctor. She thought he was joking and did not comply with his request. Employees of the hotel found him unconscious.

GEORGIA PROHIBITIONISTS SEE GOVERNOR SIGN BILL

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 8.—A large crowd of enthusiastic prohibitionists
yesterday watched Governor Hoke Smith attach his official signature to the Prohibition bill. The new law is effective on January 1, 1908.

OUR GREATEST ACTIVE NAVAL COMMANDER.

REAR ADMIRAL ROBLEY D. EVANS.

Admiral Evans will soon sail round the Horn to join America's Eastern squadron, recalled by a new order from Washington.

PROF. ZUEBLIN ATTACKS GREAT CAPITALISTS

SAYS THEY ARE PAYING THE WAY FOR GREAT REIGN OF SOCIALISM.

Pronounce Standards' Methods as "Chicanery" and Rips Up All Social Conventions.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—"Great capitalists are paving the way for a reign of socialism in America and are doing far more to hasten that era than the confessed socialists who injure the cause by constant agitation. Men of the type of Rockefeller, Harriman and Morgan through their genius for organization and concentration, are making it easy for the government to take over the organizations they now head and handle them under a socialistic rule. Eventually the state will control all the industries of the present money kings."

Before an audience that completely filled Kent theater, Prof. Charles Zueblin, head of the sociological department in Chicago university, the school Rockefeller's millions founded, attacked the Standard Oil company, characterized its methods as "business chicanery," and said Judge Landis' fine was great, dubbed Rockefeller, Harriman and Morgan the only real, dyed in the wool socialists,
flayed popular standards of religion,
the "sacredness" of the constitution and ripped social conventions up one side and down the other, declaring that shirt sleeved dinner table should be as proper as the "claw hammer." Prof. Zueblin's lecture was on "The Constraint of Orthodoxy," and his remarks in connection with the Standard Oil fine astonished his hearers.

"The Standard's excuse that they did it just because 'everybody else
does it,' is one of the cheapest excuses of economic orthodoxy and business chicanery," he said.

Attacking social conventions Prof.
Zueblin said:

"Most people rather give up their religion than break a social convention."

"Shop girls dress like the leisure
class does, and work all day in uncomfortable clothes. A man can't feel that he is a gentleman if he wears an incorrect necktie."

"Conventions will not allow a man people to conclude that a negro is a man."

"Concentration of power in a country is one of our great dangers but we play with it a good deal. We are just now muddled to know how much the law dares interfere."

"There should be more fatherhood and motherhood in America and less mastery and mistressship."

"The existence of two great political parties in America is as good an illustration of the orthodox with which we are beset as the Methodist and Baptist church in religion. There must be two parties with a slight difference in order to put men into office.

"Judge Landis was not constrained by orthodoxy. No such fine was ever imposed before. He disturbed conventions, but he displayed clear logic."

TWO ITALIANS HANGED.
Pittsburg, Aug. 8.—Giorgio Quagenti and Giovanni, Italians, were hanged
this morning for the murder of Angelo Cappabianca, an Italian merchant at Cairton, April 25, 1906.

GOV. HARRIS AT WORK.

Columbus, Aug. 8.—Governor Harris was at his desk this morning.
"I'm feeling good," he said. "I never was troubled with anything but a bad cold." The Governor plunged at once into work with Secretary Flickinger.

DAYTON OFFICERS HAVE NO OTHER CLUE

Dayton, Aug. 8.—With the innocence of the Markowitz brothers clearly established, the authorities today confess that the prospects of finding the slayer of Abe Cohen and Anna Markowitz are decidedly slim. "We have not a clue worthy of the name," said Sheriff Boes. It is the general opinion that the assault and murder of Miss Markowitz and death of Cohen will be added to the many unsolved mysteries which have occurred in Dayton in recent years.

HEAVY LOSS BY FIRE IN BIG GRAIN ELEVATOR

Baltimore, Aug. 8.—Fire broke out in the grain elevator of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. The grain elevator is thought to be doomed and the fire threatens to spread to surrounding property. A general alarm has brought to the scene 25 engines and 15 truck companies. The elevator structure is a roaring furnace. At 8:50 the roof of the elevator crashed in, sending huge sparks in every direction.

At 10:30 the fire was under control.
The "grain elevator" was completely destroyed, with a loss on the building
alone of between $170,000 and $175,000.
No estimate of the loss on the con-tent's has been made, but it is believed to be heavy.

At 9:15 the east wall of the building fell out with a mighty crash. Fortunately the firemen had seen the danger and had moved to places of safety.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH AT LORAIN, OHIO

Lorain, O. Aug. 8.—Authorities here are investigating the death of Arthur L. Frick superintendent of construction for the Sheffield Land company, who was found dead in a barn with a bullet in the back and in the head.
He was prosperous and apparently had no business or domestic troubles.
While a murder was suspected the coroner gives a verdict of suicide after his investigation.

ANOTHER FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT

Milwaukee, Aug. 8.—A race between two big automobiles from Milwaukee to Okauchee, a distance of about 25 miles, with a supper and prize of $25
as the stakes, ended in a frightful accident to one of the cars, which resulted in the death of two of its occupants and painful though not fatal injury to two others. The machine which met with an accident collided with a bridge which spans Elm creek, near Brookfield Junction, about 10 miles west of Milwaukee. The wrecked car is owned by Alderman John Koerner, while Frank Mulkern owns the other machine, which reached its destination in safety.

Troops Restore Order.

Belfast, Aug. 8.—The first day of the military policy of Belfast passed in absolute quiet. There was no incident of any kind and the effect of the presence of the troops on the business of the city was most excellent. Some of the mills and factories that had closed were reopened, and others announce that they will reopen.

HOPES ISLANDS WON'T STAY LONG

"Nick" Longworth Gives His Views
at Luncheon in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Honolulu, Aug. 8.—Congressman Nicholas Longworth in a speech at the Commercial club luncheon said he hoped that the Philippines "would not long be with us. In the meantime free trade with the Philippines would be a square deal and free sugar would not injure Hawaii."

CONTEST FOR SENATORSHIP OF MISSISSIPPI

DAMAN AND RECOUNT MAY BE DEMANDED.

UGLY CHARGES ARE MADE

Democratic State Committee has Been Called Together to Settle Dispute Over Nomination.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 8.—With the political adherents of Congressman
John Sharp Williams and Governor Vardaman in a wrangle over the result of the Democratic primaries just held to determine the choice of the party for United States senator, and the Democratic committee in session
to canvass the ballots, the prospects are good for a lively row in the Mississippi Democracy. The race is so close that the outcome seems very uncertain, the indications favoring Williams. The governorship and other state offices are involved.

The committee will meet in the senate chamber, and representatives of both the senatorial candidates will be on hand, as well as those of the gubernatorial candidates who are conceded the highest vote. E. F. Noel is apparently in the lead with Brewer a close second, but Charles Scott is not at all satisfied with the result and has announced that he would demand a recount of the vote.

For the past day or so there have been all sorts of rumors of destroyed ballots and lost ballot boxes, but when traced down these reports have been found to be without foundation. It was said that a lot of the ballot boxes
in Copiah, a county that gave Governor James K. Vardaman a majority of 231 over John Sharp Williams in the senatorial contest, had been burned,
but the secretary of the county executive committee has certified that this was not so, and that every precinct had been recounted and that every ballot was safe in the hands of the proper officials.

The meeting promises to be sensational, there being some predictions that trouble would arise in the event
any compromise measures were resorted to. Both candidates are claiming that a canvass of the vote will show their elections. Vardaman by a bare majority, while Williams' friends claim it by at least 1,000.

Mr. Williams is in the city, but will make no statement other than that he was elected. Congressman E. J. Bowers
of the coast district is also here in Mr. Williams' interest, as are also several of his friends from north Mississippi, where Governor Vardaman received some of his largest majorities,
and it is said they have some startling evidence in their possession concerning the Vardaman vote in that section which will be produced in the event the governor demands a recount. The Vardaman men also claim irregularities.

GERMAN EDITORS DISPLEASED BY FRANCE'S ACTION

ONE PAPER SAYS EQUAL FORCE OF POLICEMEN COULD HAVE DONE THE JOB.

SAY FRANCE ACTED HASTILY

Excited Tribesmen Surround Morocco
Seaport—More Trouble to Come Consuls Fear.

Berlin, Aug. 8.—Some discontent is evidenced in the German press in the matter of the action taken by France
at Casablanca. The Koenigsche Zeitung says: "What 100 sailors succeeded in doing could in our estimation have been accomplished by an equal force of policemen." Continuing, this paper expresses regret that the international police have not been organized more rapidly. The Boersen Zeitung says: "France has occupied Casablanca in order to restore order and provide for the security of the European residents, but she will remain
there and then eventually draw Morocco into her power as Great Britain has done with Egypt and Japan with Korea."

The Moorish Trouble.

Paris, Aug. 8.—The seaport of El Arach, Morocco, is surrounded by tribesmen, who are excited and exasperated over the bombardment of Casablanca. The gates of the town have been shut. The consuls are demanding a warship. New disturbances have broken out at Alcazar, in the Fez region. The French residents of this locality will be instructed to come to Tangier.

FRANCE LANDS TROOPS

AT CASABLANCA, MOROCCO.

Tangier, Aug. 8.—Several French
Troopships have reached Casablanca.
Soldiers were at once landed and now hold the town. It is reported that over 300 Moors were killed or wounded during the recent bombardment.
Four French warships have arrived here.

Persia Wants Help.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—Persia has asked the assistance of the Russian foreign office to secure a settlement of her frontier dispute with Turkey. She claims that Turkish troops have penetrated 40 miles into Persian territory, terrorizing the population. The original reclamation of the Turko-Persian frontier was made by Russian and English surveyors in the '60s.

RECRUIT BALKED AT ORDER TO STRIP

Then Naval Officers Learned That
"Harry" Was a Very Pretty Young Lass.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 8.—Because she loved her brother more than any other man living and wanted to join him, Ella Doehing, aged 20, tried to enlist in the navy yesterday. She balked only when Chief Master-at-Arms ordered her to undergo a physical examination.

The girl gave the name of Harry Doehing. A couple of times she faltered, but not until she was taken to a private room did she balk. When told to strip, she began to cry, and confessed that she was masquerading
as a young man. Miss Doehing said she was an orphan and since her brother enlisted she was lonely.

Though pretty and only 20 years old, the attentions of other young men did not attract her. The girl's story aroused interest about the recruiting station and a search of the records was made. Her brother, Geo.
Doehing is an apprentice seaman on the Vermont. The girl declared that she would find some way to join him.

In the Interest of the Army.

Berlin, Aug. 8.—Brigadier General
Henry G. Sharpe, commissary general of the United States army, who has been inspecting the supply departments of the armies of Great Britain, France and Germany, has completed his inquiry into the commissary arrangements of Germany, and leaves Berlin for London with Mrs. Sharpe
at once. The general received everfacially from the war ministry to make for me through the Italian.

Colored Gathering.

Washington, C. H., O., Aug. 8.—The Ohio Grand lodge, G. U. O. F., is in annual session here this week. Prominent colored Odd Fellows from all parts of the state are present. There are 200 delegates. Thursday afternoon
a competitive drill of a number of uniformed companies will take place and addresses will be made by Hon. Harry
M. Dougherty of Columbus and Congressman J. W. Keifer of Springfield.

POLICEMAN HELD FOR EDITOR'S DEATH

Helena, Ark., Aug. 8.—Former Policeman Ben Curruth was arrested
here, charged with the assassination of J. M. Scott, city editor of the Helena World, Sunday morning. Curruth denies the charge, but the police claim to have strong circumstantial evidence against him. Curruth was a member of the police at the time the entire force was compelled to resign upon the demand of the citizens' mass meeting, following charges of graft by the World. The arrest has created much excitement.

Three Drowned.

Newton, N. J., Aug. 8.—James Johnson, 21 of Jersey City; Harriet Slink-ard, 16, and Helen Bloomer, 15, both of Brooklyn, were drowned while bathing in the lake here. With a girl on either arm Johnson was clinging to a raft moored near the shore in what was supposed to be water reaching only to their waists. Suddenly one of the girls screamed and the three bathers sank together. The bodies were recovered.

PRISONER SAVED BY A BIG STORM

Which Flooded Court Room Where He Was to be Tried for a Small Offense.

Pittsburg, Aug. 8.—Thomas Jordan,
the negro janitor of the First National bank of Turtle Creek, who is held on a charge of disorderly conduct in connection with the disappearance of $1,750 last week, was taken before a justice of the peace for a hearing. During the proceedings a thunder storm
came up and Turtle creek overflowed, flooding the town. Lawyers, bank officials, detectives and constables were forced to seek shelter from wet feet,
and because of the flooded floors in the office of the justice the hearing was adjourned. The storm was one of the heaviest of the season. The lightning flashes were almost incessant and a number of buildings were struck.

HIGH WIND

And Big Hail Storm Damaged Crops
in Illinois, Causing Loss of a Million Dollars.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 8.—The storm of Tuesday night, which was accompanied by a 50-mile wind, was the worst in many years. Hailstones of the size of a hen egg cut the blades of the corn stalks and left 25,000 acres of corn barren waste. Farm buildings were laid low, telephone wires are down all over the western part of the county, and the damage in Peoria and Knox counties is estimated at $1,000,000.

The Iowa Storm.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 8.—Final reports from the storm-stricken district of northern Iowa indicate that four persons met death in the tornado, which worked ruin and havoc. The heaviest damage to farmers was in the vicinity of Rockwell, where 12 barns were destroyed and much live stock killed. The town of Clear Lake was a heavy sufferer.

FIREMAN DIED IN REGULAR MAN TRAP

Parkersburg, W. Va., Aug. 8.—John Harmon, aged 19 years, of this city, a fireman on the O. R. Division of the B. & O. road, was instantly killed yesterday at Big Run Harman when crossing a bridge struck his head out of the engine cab window, colliding with a girder, and was thrown into the creek below, where he was found an hour later.

The train ran for a mile before the engineer missed the fireman. Several months ago Wilbur Washburn, another fireman, was killed at the same spot in precisely the same manner.

Remarkable Meteor.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 8.—A remarkable meteor was seen here, and was visible slowly moving across the heavens from the southwest, disappearing
in the northeast. It presented the appearance of a comet about the size of a football, with a tail apparently 50 feet long, from which showers of meteors fell continuously. The ball was of a greenish-yellow color, while the tail was white.

PRIEST ON WARPATH TWO MEN ARE DEAD

Pittsburg, Aug. 8.—Two brothers, Andrew and Stephen Starzeski, who conduct a Polish hotel here, were shot today by Ludwig Szeziel, a disaffected Polish priest, who came here ten days ago from Chicago.
Stephen is dead and Andrew will die.
The priest was crazed with liquor.

HOSPITALITY OF RICHMOND FOLK PLEASES GIRLS

CONFEDERACY.

MANY PLACES ARE VISITED

Friday Advocate Party Will Enjoy a Daylight Ride Down Historic James River.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 8.—The Advocate girls are rapidly becoming famous over the Atlantic coast states.
Thursday's Times-Dispatch contains a splendid notice of the party's arrival, and the staff photographer took a group picture to accompany the story. The girls are in splendid health and spirits. The special chair car from Washington arrived at 10 o'clock last night and the entire party
was tired enough to retire at once.

The Advocate "Daisies," as several on the trip have dubbed the happy girls from Licking county who are now touring this section of the country, were quickly conveyed from the railway station to the famous Murphy Southern Hotel, where the best of accommodations were reserved for the party. All were up in time to enjoy a good breakfast this morning, and after walking about town a bit or writing letters or souvenir cards to home friends, they were ready at 9:15 for a carriage ride about Richmond.

There are many points of interest in this old town, the capital of the Confederacy, and the drive this morning served to refresh the girls' minds
on many things they had learned in school. The capitol, the governor's mansion, the Washington and Clay monuments, national cemetery, soldiers' home, tomb of President Tyler, grave of Jefferson Davis and of John Randolph, the Confederate museum and Jefferson Davis mansion were viewed by the Advocate girls as well as many other objects and places
about the city. The girls stopped nearly an hour at the Davis mansion,
the home and "White House" of the late president of the Southern Confederacy, which is now used as a museum where many relics of the Civil war are to be seen. This afternoon after lunch the girls will go to the Libby prison site, take a peep at the church of Patrick Henry fame, and see Washington's old headquarters,
returning to the hotel at 6 for dinner. No special program for tonight
has been arranged, as every minute
since leaving Newark has been occupied. Nearly all of the girls will take advantage of the opportunity to write letters or to rest and talk of the pleasure that awaits them tomorrow
on the trip down the James river to Jamestown Island and the Exposition ground.

Here in Richmond the girls had their first taste of Southern hospitality. To be sure, all the way from Newark to Washington and from Washington to Mt. Vernon and over to Richmond everybody has been exceedingly courteous and thoughtful,
but here it is different. The people are not only kind and respectful, but they are more than that and the whole is summed up in the two words
"Southern hospitality."

The Confederate veterans at the Soldiers' Home here showed the young ladies marked attention this morning. Keeper Graffigna at St.
John's church, eloquently repeated
Patrick Henry's "Liberty or Death" speech. While the girls were going through the old cemetery here, they copied many quaint epitaphs from the head stones. The weather is very warm today.

C. H. SPENCER.

GOVERNOR'S HEART WAS TOUCHED IN THIS CASE

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 8.—Holding a telegram containing the news that his baby could not live two hours, Oscar Earle, an intelligent white convict touched the heart of Governor Comer yesterday. Tears ran down the cheeks of the stricken father as he begged to be allowed to see his child
and comfort the heartbroken mother.

Earle was in the Governor's office dried moist eyes as the governor,
father of a large family himself,
turned to his desk and wrote a release
for ten days that the convict might go home.

Men who know of the case say the impression of Earle is a miscarriage of justice and that he shot a man who was abusing him.

W. N. Bradley of Clyde, Neb., was prostrated by intense heat and died before medical aid could reach him.

EVIL OF POLITICS.

How It Shows Itself in the Conduct of City Waterworks.

Paper Read by John M. Diven, Secretary of the American Waterworks Association, at the Meeting of the Organization Held in June of the Present Year.

That politics does in many cases—probably a large majority of cases—enter into the management of waterworks owned and operated by cities and towns will not be denied. And that this is not right, is absolutely a menace to the health and welfare of the citizens in many cases, as well as a great financial loss, will not, I think, be denied. Too much depends upon the proper management of a public water supply to make it safe or right to allow politics to control or affect it.

To be a good waterworks superintendent or manager requires, in addition to ability and adaptability, long study and practice. If these managers are to be changed every time the city administration changes, it is evident that they can never have the experience that they should have to perform their duties properly. No matter how good men they may be they will still lack the proper training and experience.

This follows throughout the entire staff—office force, inspector, street foreman, meter readers and repairers, engineers and firemen—in fact, the entire force.

Again, will men who only expect to hold the "job" for two or three years give it the study and attention that it should have? It is not natural that they should; there is little incentive for them to do so; they know that the next election is likely to go the other way, so that they will have to go at some other work.

Then they have other duties to perform, other masters to serve—the men or party that put them in the position. Party allegiance must be observed at no matter what cost to the citizens. The men are employed for their politics, not for their worth or fitness for the particular position.

Under these circumstances, are the best men always or even usually chosen—the men fitted for the work? The public water supply is a matter too all important to be made subservient to politics or any consideration except that of the very best possible supply of the purest water obtainable. All must use water. If it is pure and good, the health of the people will be good and the community will be prosperous. Because it is a healthy city with a low typhoid death rate home seekers will be attracted to it. But without proper supervision and management the purity of the water will in most cases always be in danger.

These political changes are often brought to the writer's attention in his capacity as secretary of this association, one of his duties being to try and keep track of the waterworks people of America. How frequently he finds these changes for purely political reasons—going on! How many changes have to be made in our list of members for this reason! In looking back over the years of his connection with the association the number of such changes that come to mind is almost as long as the present list of members.

A man drops out, is not heard from. One of our associate members calls and in the course of conversation tells of a visit in "Grafton." Asked about Smith, the old superintendent, he says: "Why, hadn't you heard? At the last election there was a complete change in the political complexion of the city. Smith and all the old commissioners are out. Jones is the superintendent now." The commission is new, the superintendent is new, just because there has been a change in the political control. Smith was a good man for the position, had long experience, thoroughly understood the work in every detail, was familiar with the works, knew all their weak points. In his long years of service he had gathered about him a corps of able and trained assistants. The works were well managed, the quality of the water above suspicion, the quantity ample. The management was economical; waste was kept at the lowest possible point. The plant was in first class condition.

But Smith didn't belong to the right political party. He was not an active politician, but he hadn't helped the party now "in" bad, in fact, voted against them; hence he must go. No matter if the quality of the water is not kept up, if the quantity is lacking when a big fire occurs because waste had not been watched; no matter if typhoid fever breaks out because the water supply has not been properly guarded and sickness, suffering and death follow, the active politician, the man who helped the party, must be rewarded.

Jones is an "active politician." He can—in fact, did—carry the Seventeenth ward for the party in power. He is a good man, sober, industrious and intelligent. There is nothing against him; no fault can be found with his appointment so far as character goes. He was a clockmaker and a good one, but had absolutely no knowledge or experience with waterworks management.

Then O'Sullivan had a strong pull in the Seventeenth and controlled many votes, which he pulled for the dominant party. He had run an engine in Alderman Riley's wood yard—he knew the difference between the throttle and the exhaust; hence he was put in charge of the expensive machinery at the pumping station.

Stoppelbein was a clerk in Meisner's drug store; hence knew all about chemistry, water analysis, etc., and he controlled a large German vote. He was put in charge of the filter plant, though he had no experience in managing either filters or men.

So down through the line the entire force is new and inexperienced, holding the positions because of the political work they had done, not because of their fitness or training.

To start with everything is in the best of condition in all departments, and things run on smoothly enough for a time. The pumping engines respond to the throttle, and the exhaust is clear. So they run smooth and pump water with no increased expense; no difference is perceptible. But in time the boilers through neglect become badly incrustated and require more coal to keep up steam. The packing of the engines becomes worn, the plungers worn, the pump valves broken. There is a loss of steam and vacuum, a big "pump slippage," and more coal is required.

Water is being freely wasted, and more has to be pumped and filtered. The filters are overworked, and with unskilled management soon fail to properly perform their work. Impure water is delivered to consumers, and a typhoid epidemic breaks out.

Then there is trouble, inquiry and investigation. Maybe the state board of health is called in. Anyhow, the trouble is remedied for the present; but, the city and state being controlled by the same party, the matter is smoothed over.

Stoppelbein has had a lesson, has had experience and would probably give efficient management as long as the party "kept in," after which more inexperience would follow.

AGAINST CONFISCATION.

Sound Arguments Put Forward in the Famous Hughes Veto.

Referring to the two cent fare bill which he recently vetoed, Governor Hughes of New York gave utterance to his views on the subject of confiscatory legislation as follows:

"It is of the greatest importance not only that railroad corporations should be compelled to respect their public obligations, but also that they should be permitted to operate under conditions which will give a fair return for their service. Upon this depends not simply the security of investors, but the security of their employees and the protection of every form of industry and commerce through the maintenance and extension of necessary transportation facilities. Nothing could be more opposed to the interests of the community as a whole than to cripple transportation corporations by arbitrary reductions of earnings."

"I fully appreciate the fact that those who have promoted this bill believe that such a rate would be fair. But I deem it most important that the policy of dealing with matters of this sort arbitrarily, by legislative rule of general application without reference to the demands of justice in particular cases, should be condemned."

"Every workingman, every tradesman and every citizen believing himself to have a stake in the prosperity of the country should determinedly oppose it, for it not only threatens the stability of business enterprise which makes our prosperity possible, but it substitutes unreason for sound judgment, the ill considered demands of resentment for the spirit of fair play and makes impossible patient and honorable effort to correct abuses."

Great M. O. Graft Scheme.

The officials of a Kansas city have discovered a new way of working the graft scheme, ignoring the fact that a private company had a franchise and contract for lighting the streets at a very low rate, they formed themselves into a company, voted themselves a franchise and made a contract with themselves for lighting the city. Under the terms of this contract the taxpayers furnish the building, labor, steam, oil, waste, etc., and the city agrees to take over the plant at any time within two years at the original cost plus 8 per cent per annum. The scheme has not been patented, and other city councils which find ordinary methods of grafting too slow are at liberty to make use of this process.

The White Man's Burden in Decatur. The Journal of Decatur, Ind., recently printed a list of persons in that city who pay taxes of more than $100 with the caption, "The White Man's Burden—Is Your Name on the List?" Municipal Ownership and $4.74—How Do You Like It? Appealed to for elucidation of this cryptic utterance, the editor writes:

"The tax in this city is $4.74 on every $100. The city of Decatur owns both her waterworks plant and electric light. There can be no question that municipal ownership is to a great extent responsible."

General English Revolt.

The London Morning Advertiser gives an account of the organization on June 5 of a federation of ratepayers and kindred associations to take steps "to prevent reckless enterprises of the municipal trades from being carried on as they are at the present time." Representatives from organizations all over the country were present. This movement is a pretty good indication of the revolt of the English people against municipal ownership.

A Strain on the Taxpayers. Some time ago Georgetown, O., undertook to build an electric light plant. They voted bonds in accordance with the "estimates" and started construction, but soon found that in order to complete the plant $12,500 in excess of the "estimates" would be needed. The additional bonds have been voted, but the extra expense is quite a strain on a town of 1,800 inhabitants.

SHREWD UNCLE HIRAM.

The City Fellers Were Wholly Unable to Fool Him.

"I reckon them city fellers must think they picked up the wrong man," declared Uncle Hiram with great satisfaction after he had returned to the farm from a brief outing. "They got an idee that any chap hailin' from the country is a greeny, but I guess I give 'em somethin' to think about."

"When I put my verise down to one of them big sticks while I writ my name, some slick lookin' feller kim along and picks the bag up. If I'd ever hit him they'd had to set a jury on him. He tried to 'pologize by sayin' he jist wanted to carry my grip to my room, but I tol' him I was a durned sight more abler to carry it than he was."

"Upstairs I diskivered a sign on the wall sayin' not to blow out the gas. I was jist goin' to turn in and let it blaze away all night when I see another sign sayin' they charged extry for burnin' gas after midnight. I see right through the trick at once and walks down four flights to tell that clerk I'd either blow out the gas or he'd give me a receipt in full for what might burn extry. He tried to laugh it off, but he sent a boy up to blow it out after I was abed all right. He showed me where to punch a button if I wanted anything in the morning. So I waked up pretty early, and I give the button a few prods so's to ask what time they set on breakfast. 'Twaunt three minutes till up comes a boy with some kind of drink. I wasn't goin' to ask no fool questions. So I sipped it like and then swallered it down. It was powerful 'vigoratin', and I tole the boy if the landlady had plenty of it he might bring me another if he was comin' up again. 'Twaunt long, and that time he said it was a mansapton, or something like that. I went downstairs singin', walked straight out the front door with my carpetbag, wandered round waitin' till breakfast time, and durned if I didn't get lost. I got a good meal for 15 cents, and when I was nosin' 'bout for my tavern I found the depot, and I hain't seen or heard nothin' of the hotel since."—Detroit Free Press.

A Great Family.

Two elder boys at the breakfast table had described their academic acquirements to their father with the just pride which inspires youths in their teens. They told of the surprise and joy of their respective teachers at certain brilliant recitations of the day before. Then arose on his high chair the youngest, the kindergarten student, aged four, whose Christian name is Lowell. He swung his arm and began, "My teacher said," then paused, evidently to let imagination have its perfect work and keep him up in the race. He swung his arm again and declared with infantile gravity, "My teacher said, 'Lowell, you and all your family are peaches.'"—Boston Transcript.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Undoubtedly many a wrecked intellect lies in the devastated path of the brain storm.

Be kind to the poor, the rich will be kind to themselves.

Finding fault seems to be the favorite way some people have of trying to demonstrate that they have some intelligence.

Living to Old Age.

Dr. Wiley, who works for the government at Washington and feeds experimental classes adulterated food to see whether it will do to them all that is claimed on the wrapper, says that the next generation will consider it an everyday trick to live 100 years, and that any one in the future who dies of anything but old age will be so ashamed of himself that he won't speak to the neighbors.

That sounds almost as hopeful as the label on a patent medicine bottle, but when it comes to an actual demonstration most people will claim Missouri as their residence. If it is so good as all that let the doctor go around giving exhibitions. He might remain in each town a week living while there to be 100 years old as an object lesson. Anything less than that will not convince the people.

HAS PROPERTY

But Can't Get It For Fear of Being Declared Insane.

New York, Aug. 5. — If John Armstrong Chanler, the wealthy New Yorker who escaped from an insane asylum in this state several years ago and fled to Virginia, where the courts declared him sane, comes back to New York to prosecute a suit he has instituted to get control of his property, he will do so at the risk of being reincarcerated as a lunatic, according to a decision by Judge Hough in the United States circuit court.

Chanler, who is the divorced husband of Amelia Rives, the authoress, was adjudged insane by the supreme court in this city and committed to an asylum. Thomas T. Sherman was appointed as a committee to take charge of Chanler and his estate.

Later Chanler escaped to Venezuela. He invoked the aid of the courts, which declared him sane and competent to have control of his property. The latter, however, being still in possession of the supreme court committee of this state, Mr. Chanler brought suit in the federal court of this district to force Mr. Sherman to restore it to him. Fearing that if he returned to prosecute his action he would be seized and again remanded to the insane asylum, Mr. Chanler, through counsel, last week petitioned Judge Hough to grant an order restraining the supreme court and its officers from interfering with him should he appear in New York. The decision against him was handed down Wednesday.

Standard Official Denies.

New York, Aug. 5.—Answering the charge made at Washington by an officer connected with the bureau of corporations, to the effect that in every step the bureau had taken to get at the facts concerning the operations of the Standard Oil company it had met deception in man and deception in methods, John D. Archbold said that there had been no such conference with Standard Oil officials, as so represented; and that no misleading or deceptive statements had been made by the Standard Oil company in connection with the governmental investigation. "Every word of my statement was the exact truth," says Mr. Archbold in his announcement. "If as much could be said of the comment of the alleged official, I do not think he should have allowed any consideration to restrain him from permitting his name to be given."

Officials Disagree.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 5. — E. I. McHaney, acting secretary of state during the absence of Secretary Ludwig, issued a statement criticising the opinion issued by Attorney General Kirby in which the secretary of state is urged to annul the charter of the Rock Island railroad in Arkansas, as he would not be in contempt for violating the injunction granted by Judge Vandeventer of Detroit. Mr. McHaney says he will take no action in the an opinion and he would never do so unless legal points were involved. He says he will take no action in the matter, as he does not wish to go to jail for contempt of court.

American Autolets In Trouble.

Berne, Switzerland, Aug. 5.—An automobile containing Heinrich Courrier, president and director of the Comried Metropolitan Opera House company, New York, while touring Lake Zurich, ran down and instantly killed an almost deaf peasant near Las Chen. Hundreds of villagers gathered about the automobile and threatened Herr Courrier and his party, which consisted of Dr. Fraenkel and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Adler of Vienna. A policeman finally calmed the peasants and took Herr Courrier and the chauffeur, Ernest Stahl, an American citizen, to the nearest police station, where Herr Courrier gave bail for the chauffeur's appearance.

Mrs. Taft Worse.

Japan Needs Money.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—M. Soyeda, a financier of Tokyo, will arrive here from Japan by way of the United States, with two secretaries. His object, it is reported, is to sound the Berlin bankers regarding the feasibility of an international Japanese government loan, with German participation. There seems to be little prospect of M. Soyeda getting satisfactory assurances here, as the future of Japanese finance is looked on doubtfully by the bankers of this city.

One Killed, Several Injured.

Sweeton, Vt., Aug. 5.—Arthur Mulherson was killed and 15 other persons were injured, three seriously, by an explosion of powder in the loading room of the Robinhood Ammunition company here.

HACKMAN USED LINIMENT ON DRUNKEN "FARE"

A COPIOUS DOSE PROVED EFFECTIVE BUT DOCTOR SAYS IT IS SERIOUS.

Police Refuse to Arrest Hackman Without Warrant and It May Not be Filed.

At about 11:30 Wednesday night one of Bolton's hacks was called to a saloon near the B. & O. depot to take a railroad switchman home who was intoxicated and became obstreperous. When the hackman, Lew Driscoll, saw the man's condition he refused to haul him. The railroad got mad, picked up a club and followed Driscoll to the Bolton barn on Third street, threatening all the way to do him up. Driscoll offered to fight him if he would part with the club, and warned him not to follow him into the office, but the intoxicated man would not heed the warning and Driscoll, in self defense, picked up a large bottle of horse medicine and gave him an allopathic dose where it counted instantly. A full count was taken and it was declared a knockout. The injured man was taken away, and the attending physician says that his injuries are very serious.

The police refused to make an arrest, unless an affidavit was filed, and as it looks as though the hackman was entirely in the right, it is thought that none will be filed.

A BIG SHOW.

The new members of the Grahame stock company, now in its last week at Idlewild Casino, are doing themselves proud. Tomorrow night the bill will be "East Lynne," and an unusually large amateur contest; and the closing shows of the Grahame stock will be two performances on Saturday of "The Police Alarm." Gil and Aker will put on a double act at every show the balance of the week.

The ceremony took place at the home of Mr. Wm. Holler, north of the city, where the bride has been making her home for some time, and was performed by the Rev. L. C. Sparks, pastor of the First M. E. church of this city, in the presence of about 25 of the relatives of the contracting parties. At the conclusion of the ceremony and after congratulations had been showered on the happy couple a wedding dinner followed. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will live in Cedar Rapids.

Among the out of town guests at the wedding were Miss Stella Kirby and Mrs. L. V. Stillwell of Newark, sisters of the groom.

The couple will live at Mt. Vernon.

ALABAMA'S GOVERNOR WILL NOT ARBITRATE WITH SOUTHERN RAILROAD

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 8.—Governor Comer has announced that he will return an answer before night to the Southern railroad's offer to lower its passenger rate immediately to 2 1-2 cents and to withdraw all its federal court suits against the state, if the commonwealth will promise not to enforce its revocation of the railroad's Alabama charter.

The general opinion is that the governor will refuse the terms offered. He is said to argue that the state is entitled to the 2 1-2 cents rate as a right and without condition and to insist that the road also pledge itself to abide by the new law prohibiting it from transferring suits against it from state to federal courts. The refusal will leave the Southern no option but to fight.

STRIKE TO END SOON.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 8.—Indications point to an early termination of the strike of telegraph operators in the Western Union office here. Only one man was on duty at 6 o'clock Wednesday night and the tie up seemed complete before midnight. However, there were 20 men at their keys and business was cleared up.

President Wm. Wooten of the local union said: "This trouble was caused by hasty action on the part of the operators. President Smith urged them not to take any radical action, but apparently they could not restrain themselves, and an ill advised walk out was the result."

NEW YORK'S DETECTIVE DEPARTMENT DISTRACTED.

New York, Aug. 8.—Italian detectives are turning New York's Latin quarter topsy turvy in their efforts to find the blackmailers and kidnappers they believe are holding Rocco Valardo's five-year-old daughter, Dominica, for ransom. Coming in connection with the epidemic of assaults on women and children and the panic caused by the warfare between the police and an organized band of American extortionists and assassins, the latest renewal of Black Hand activity has driven the detective department fairly distracted.

ANNOUNCEMENTS OF CANDIDATES

The Advocate will begin the printing of the announcement of the names of candidates for the Democratic primary election in the Daily issue of August 19, and the Semi-Weekly issue of August 20.

The price of $2 will be charged for candidates for Representative and city officers, and $1 for assessors and township officers, payable in advance.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY ELECTIONS.

As will be seen by the official notice published by the Democratic County Central Committee of Licking county, in another column of the Advocate, a Democratic primary election will be held in Newark and throughout Licking county on Saturday, September 7, 1907, to nominate township officers for the various townships in Licking county and municipal officers for the city of Newark. And also at this election a Representative will be nominated to succeed Hon. W. A. Ashbrook, in the Legislature. As the law is new and not very generally understood we deem it proper to call the especial attention of the Democracy of Licking county to this nomination. Of course it is the first election of this kind held in the county, and it will require more pains to have it conducted legally and satisfactorily than subsequent elections of the same kind. This city and township election this year takes the place of the usual County Democratic primary election, which has been held heretofore, but which county elections under the new law will hereafter be held every two years—on the even years—one being held next year. All there is of the present election this year is for the Democracy of the city and county to hold their various caucusses and candidates to do the usual announcing and electioneering previous to the first Saturday in September for their various city and township officers, in which there are vacancies, and also the office of Representative. And then on the first Saturday of September a ticket will be nominated, chosen from the various candidates in the city and townships of the county, under the Bronson law. While it is a busy time and the time is short, only about a month in advance, yet we hope and expect that the Democracy of the city and county will give this important matter careful and full consideration, to the end that we may nominate a strong ticket that shall command the entire confidence and support of the entire party, and be triumphantly elected next November.

If the President were a candidate for the nomination he could not act with more prudence than he is now acting. If the convention were at hand and he were an avowed aspirant for a third term he could not be more reticent. His secretary declares the President will say nothing whatever about Judge Landis' opinion and fine or about any other aspect of the Standard Oil matter. It is true that the Bureau of Corporations doesn't give him much chance to talk, but if he wished to communicate with the public we presume the bureau would stop long enough to make it possible. This caution and reticence on the part of Roosevelt is generally accepted in high political circles as the most significant indication of his actual candidacy that has yet transpired. It remains to be seen how much longer the Ohio Taft make-believe boom will last before the collapse.

Accidents in the first quarter of this year cost the railway companies three and a half millions in damages to cars, engines and roadway. This fact ought to make the officers of the companies take necessary precautions to avert accidents. Incidentally, 421 persons were killed, and nearly five thousand were injured.

ARREST IT—$50 REWARD.

A small sample bottle of Ec-zine will be sent free to every reader of the Advocate who is suffering with any kind of skin disease or eruption—Eczema, Blood Poison, Fever Sores, Cancer, Rheumatic Pains, or any other Germ or Virus disease or sore of any name or nature. $50 reward will be paid for any case of Eczema that is not promptly cured with Ec-zine. Ec-zine will heal any sore or cure the worst skin and make it look like velvet. Thousands cured daily. Never mind what you have tried; forget the failures made by other remedies, and send for free sample of Ec-zine which always gives relief and permanent cure. It is not a patent medicine. If your druggist does not have Ec-zine send direct to us. State nature of disease and years standing. Address: THE PHYSICIANS' LABORATORIES, 306 Boyce Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

STRUCTURAL STEEL IN GREAT DEMAND

Many Big Orders Were Taken by the Steel Mills—Independents are Important Factors.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 8.—The Iron Trade Review today says: The demand for structural material is strong, and some independent interests have been important factors during the past week, among the orders taken by them being 10,000 tons of steel for the Edison power plant, New York, and 7,000 tons for the Hay Foundry. The American Bridge company will furnish the 20,000 tons of steel needed to complete the Pennsylvania terminals, the contract having been taken originally by the firm of Milliken Bros., now bankrupt.

While large premiums are not so frequently paid for delivery of plates the demand continues strong. A contract for steel for another lake vessel has been placed, and it is expected that orders for several others will be booked shortly. A number of inquiries of good size for steel piling are pending in the lake district, and a traction company has placed an order for steel ties. Orders for 11,000 tons of standard sections for a steam railroad and 6,000 tons for a traction line, which had been deferred pending the making of financial arrangements, have been placed with the Lackawanna Steel Co.

The coke market shows increased strength, the demand having improved for both furnaces and foundry grades, and prices advanced. The old material market is very weak and transactions are few.

ROBERT W. HOWARD, Chairman.

THE PLAIN TRUTH.

What More Can Newark People Ask?

When well known residents and highly respected people of Newark make such statements as the following, it must carry conviction to every reader:

John Lippincott, proprietor of a livery stable at 127 Eleventh street, Newark, Ohio, says: "I heartily endorse Doan's Kidney Pills, and in fact, I have told hundreds of the people that this remedy helped me out of the cemetery. I had a severe case of kidney trouble. I suffered from rheumatism for a long while and had a pain across the loins that almost paralyzed me. The twinges felt like knife thrusts. When I did not suffer these sharp, shooting pains there was a constant, dull aching in the small of the back. At such times I could not find an easy position no matter whether I sat, stood or lay down. My back tired easily, and when I tried to shift about the sharp pains would catch me again. I truly believe that if it had not been for Doan's Kidney Pills, I would not be alive today. I got a box and the effect of the treatment was simply wonderful. It drove the pain from my back and sides and there has not been a trace of any of the symptoms I have described for the past eight years. It was just after I had used Doan's Kidney Pills in 1896 that I made a statement in the papers telling about my case, and I am happy to find that after eight years I can stoop and lift and am feeling as supple as I ever was. I will be glad to tell all I know about Doan's Kidney Pills to anybody who cares to inquire."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

SAFE CRACKERS CAUGHT IN ACT

Two Desperadoes Shot in Chase and One Was Captured—Others Still at Large.

Cleveland, Aug. 8.—A posse of farmers reinforced by deputy sheriffs, is chasing three bank robbers near the Cuyahoga county line, south of the city. One of the robbers is seriously wounded and it is not believed the robbers can long evade the posse.

The robbers made an unsuccessful attempt to loot the Farmers and Merchants Bank at Strongsville, early today. They had drilled the safe and were preparing to insert explosives, when three residents aroused by the automatic burglar alarm approached the building. Two of the townsmen were armed with shotguns. When the robbers saw they were discovered they made a dash for the rear door. They were met by a volley from the shotguns. One of the robbers crying "I'm shot!" fell, but the others seized him and backed away keeping up a steady revolver fire. They had stolen a rig in which to escape, but were cut off by the townsmen and retreated south. Their assailants had failed to bring extra ammunition for their guns and before they could secure it the robbers disappeared. A posse was quickly organized and is now in pursuit.

Deserted by his companions, the man shot while attempting to rob the Farmers and Merchants bank at Strongsville, was found in a field about a mile from Strongsville.

Besides the robber found, a second burglar is believed to have been injured. The burglars rescued their companion under fire of their revolvers, and then fled. The citizens were short of ammunition and the robbers made good their escape for the time. The wounded burglar gives the name of Fogarty. He was shot in the groin and thigh and may not recover. He refuses to say anything about his associates.

IN POLICE COURT.

Jones Dure, Dick Athey and Samuel Bucklew, regulars, were up before Mayor McCleery Thursday on the same old charge, too much of the amber fluid. Each drew $5 and costs and will spend a few days in jail.

Sammy Walters blew in from the rural districts last evening and proceeded to round out the day's pleasures by taking on a load that was a little heavy to carry and when he awoke this morning he didn't recognize his new lodging house. Sammy was handed $5 and costs and will meditate for a few days on the evils which beset the ruralites in a strange city while boarding with Sheriff Redman.

C. B. Winters drew $5 and costs for a plain drunk. He did not have the necessary to liquidate and in default was sent to jail.

WANT WAGE SCALE ADJUSTED AT ONCE

Pittsburg, Aug. 8.—Representatives of upward of 41,000 organized railroad workers employed on the great railroads of the eastern half of the country, have been in secret session for ten days or more at Cambridge Springs, Pa., discussing various plans for obtaining a readjustment of wage schedules. Those who have been represented at the meeting are the Railway Conductors, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the brakemen, yardmen, the Switchmen's Brotherhood, and the telegraphers.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers was not represented.

Strike talk or radical measures of any sort have been the farthest from the thoughts of the trainmen represented.

The roads involved in the present agitation are the Pennsylvania, the New York Central and allied lines, the New York, New Haven & Hartford, the Central railroad of New Jersey, the Lake Erie & Western, the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, the Delaware & Hudson, the B. & O., the Boston & Albany, and the Chesapeake & Ohio.

The railroad workers represented at the Cambridge Springs conference declare that a substantial increase ought to be granted to them.

THEY ATE MUSHROOMS.

Wheeling, Aug. 8.—Dr. C. P. Dinsmore is dead, his son, aged 20, and niece, aged 7, are dying, and Mrs. Dinsmore, the doctor's sister, Frank Roberts, and an employee are seriously ill. They are deadly food tasters instead of mushrooms for supper last night.

THOUGHT HE SAW A REAL GHOST

One of the accommodating young clerks at the Haves cigar store was feeling badly Wednesday evening, in fact had a bad case of the blues, and consulted a medium in the hopes of having his drooping spirits revived. After the medium had gone into a trance and told the seeker after future events a few uncanny tales he hastened home to sleep it over and dream of bright days to come. Upon opening the door to his room he let out a yell that was heard from one end of Buena Vista street to the other. Horror upon horrors. There in the center of the floor underneath the chandelier, with the lights a burning low was a real for sure ghost. He turned and fled, never stopping until he reached the patrol station. When he returned, clothed with the authority to bring in his ghostship, it had disappeared. The giggling of several young ladies in nearby apartments put the young gentleman wise to the fact that he had been up against it. You haven't say ghosts to him now, unless you are looking for trouble.

BONAPARTE WOULD JAIL MAGNATES

Lenox, Mass., Aug. 8.—In reply to a question regarding any expected action against the trust magnates personally, Attorney General Bonaparte today said:

"I have noticed that a good many complain that criminal prosecutions against the trust magnates and sentences of imprisonment for them have been very infrequent, and in fact, for practical purposes, almost unknown. It is perfectly true that better moral effect would be produced by sending a few prominent men to jail than by a great deal of litigation, however successful, against the corporations they controlled."

"It is the avowed purpose of the department of justice to prosecute criminally one who is really responsible for violations of the anti-trust law."

UNIVERSAL PEACE INTEREST

Indemnity For Owners of Captured Merchantmen Not Favored—Refusal of Some of the Delegates to Take a Stand on These Important International Questions.

The Hague, Aug. 8.—In the interest of universal peace the committee on the Geneva convention has adopted by a vote of 16 to 4 the proposal of France to prevent payment of prize money among the victorious seamen in naval battles of the future. "In this connection, it is worthy of note that 26 of the delegates did not vote on the proposition, 12 of these being absent from the meeting and 14 refusing to have their votes recorded."

Joseph H. Choate of the American delegation pointed out in this connection that the laws of the United States already prohibited the paying of prize money.

Another proposal made by France that the owners of captured merchantmen should be indemnified was defeated by 13 to 7. Fourteen delegates abstained from voting on this measure and 12 were absent.

BEARS HAMMER DOWN STOCKS AGAIN TODAY

New York, Aug. 8.—The sweeping Bear raid which has driven the stocks down in the last few days, was resumed with great vigor today, forcing fresh declines of from 3 to 5 points in the first hour. All Wall street was in a quiver of expectancy. Brokers, cutting short their vacations, hurried back to town. Some credence was given the report that the Standard Oil company was backing the bears and using the $29,240,000 fine to break down the prices in an effort to create public sentiment against the radical action by the federal government. The report was positively denied at the Standard headquarters. Toward noon strength came into the trading and practically all of the losses of the day were recovered.

WAS NOT READY YET FOR RIDE IN BEARSE

New Comerstown, Aug. 8.—Yesterday as an undertaker of Newcomerstown was driving towards this city after a funeral which he had held in the country, he came upon the form of a man lying in the gutter by the roadside, apparently dead. When he made an examination he found the fellow was not really dead but only dead drunk. He did not wish to leave the man to his fate, but had only the hearse. Finally he and the driver decided they would chuck him inside it. As they were doing so he became sufficiently aroused to realize what was happening and kicked like a Camanche, exclaiming "For God's sake, don't put me in that thing, I'm not dead yet."

NO TYPHOID FOR NEWARK PEOPLE

ONLY FOUR CASES DURING JULY AND NO NEW ONES THIS MONTH.

Coshocton Still Suffers From Epidemic There and Officials Continue Investigation.

The engineers of the State Board of Health are still at Coshocton working on the conditions prevailing there in regard to typhoid fever, which according to a Coshocton paper is an epidemic there.

While the board has not made public its report yet, inside information gives out that the trouble will be blamed on the handling of milk.

Typhoid fever becoming prevalent from milk is unusual, and it is thought that it does not arise from the milk directly, but from the improper care and handling of it. Unsanitary methods are probably being used, and the dairies supplying Coshocton are being rigidly investigated.

In a talk with Newark's health officer, Dr. Clark Hatch, he stated that our health conditions are good, only four cases of typhoid being reported last month and only one case of diphtheria.

Newark had the smallest death rate of any city in Ohio last year, the rate being only 10.2 in 1000.

Beside being a live and hustling place the health and sanitary conditions here should commend it as a place to locate. We have the purest water to be found anywhere. Licking creek, from whence our water supply is derived, suffers no contamination and is by nature or the soil filtered all the way to Newark, and to prove this assertion, there is more water in the creek miles up above the city than there is here, where we take our supply.

The water is here, but is all underground. No danger here from typhoid fever or any disease that may be communicated from outside sources, and the health officer is ever diligent in looking up all other sources of possible danger from disease, hence our immunity.

DEAFNESS CAN NOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

MAN GRIEVED OVER DEATH OF HIS SON

George W. Delamater was Once Candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania.

Pittsburg, Aug. 8.—George Wallace Delamater, once candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, and who served as state senator from Crawford county from 1887 to 1890, committed suicide by shooting, in his offices in this city. Occupants of neighboring offices in the Diamond National bank building found him dead with a 38-caliber bullet hole in his right temple. Grief over the death of his father, George B. Delamater, at Meadville, Pa., on May 6, and the sudden death of his son, James Scott Delamater, in June, at Connellsville, Pa., is believed to be the cause of his suicide. Members of the family say that Delamater had become morbid with grief of late and that he had frequently expressed his sorrow. Sherman Preston, a son-in-law, who took charge of the body, declared that the dead man's affairs were in no way involved and that he had nothing to worry about.

USED CARAMEL TO COLOR HIS WHISKEY

Revenue Officers Go After Adulterated Whiskey Made in Old Kentucky.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Internal Revenue Commissioner Capers recommended the acceptance of the compromise proposition made by counsel for Joseph Wolff, of Chicago, purchaser of the product of a distilling company of Louisville, Ky., which is that Wolff pay a fine of $2500 and the whiskey recently seized by the government to be released. The whiskey was seized in warehouses at Louisville on the ground that it contained caramel. The coloring matter was found to have been put on the barrels prior to their being filled in the warehouses. In this respect the case differs from one now pending in the supreme court of the United States wherein distillers are contesting the right of the government to seize whiskey in which caramel has been placed as coloring matter during the manufacturing process. It was claimed by Wolff that the coloring matter was used prior to the purchase of the whiskey by him in 1899.

MORE SHELLS ARE FIRED BY THE FRENCH SHIPS

Tangier, Aug. 8.—A fresh outbreak by the Moors at Casablanca has necessitated further bombardment there and attacks by Moors have also occurred at Elabat and Mazagan. Moorish horsemen made attacks on Casablanca, necessitating further bombardment. The Moors were routed, and were unable to carry their dead off the streets.

JOHN SPARKS.

Gov. John Sparks of Nevada, began to serve his second term of four years as the chief executive officer of his state last January, he having first taken his seat in January of 1903. He is considered in Western political circles as a sort of diamond in the rough, as his schooling was never elaborate and he has worked his way into political prominence by the strong personal hold he has on the mining element in Nevada. Governor Sparks is a Democrat, and his home is at Carson City, although he spends much of his time at Reno City, where he has large property interests. Governor Sparks strongly aided the bringing of several noted prize-fighters to the mining town of Goldfield, in his state.

WASHINGTON WAS IMPRESSED BY BEAUTY OF GIRLS

Washington, Aug. 7.—In today's telegram telling of the doings of the Advocate girls at the Capital reference was made to the prominence given the visit of the Ohio girls in today's Washington newspapers. Under the caption "Ohio Girls Capture City," the Post today says:

"A bevy of happy young Ohio girls, on their way to the Jamestown Exposition, piled into a big automobile at the B. & O. depot yesterday, about noon. There were nineteen of them and only one chaperon. They came as the guests of the Newark (Ohio) Advocate and the Coshocton (Ohio) Age, which have held contests similar to the Washington Post's Jamestown Exposition contest."

"None of the Buckeye girls had ever seen the National Capital before, and all declared last evening that they will be loath to depart this afternoon. They visited the Mecca of all patriotic Americans, the home of Washington. In the evening they put it to a vote whether they would go to the theatre or to the Congressional Library. They showed wisdom, although the majority of them are not yet out of their teens, by unanimously choosing the Library. Today they will take an automobile ride about the city, visit several of the government buildings, and take a bird's-eye view of the National Capital from the top of the Washington Monument."

The party includes Misses Emery, Bucy, Dair, Hays, Beutz, Beaver, Staunton, McCarty, Keenn, Stare, Young, Botts, Goff, Madden, Davis, McCormick, Bonham, Taylor, Mrs. H. R. Emery, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Spencer, and Clark C. Doughty.

"The Herald, another morning paper, gives a half column write up. The top line of a 'display' heading reads 'Beauties Capture Capital,' and another section of the headline says: 'Fair Damsels from Ohio Dispel Summer Drowsiness as they View the sights.'"

"Whence does this bunch of beauties come?" said Files-on-parade as he plied his lonesome way down a street yesterday afternoon, longing for the winter days, when the end of the matinee brought hundreds of dainty feminines for him to gaze at.

Twenty Ohio beauties reached the Riggs House yesterday as the guests of the Newark (Ohio) Advocate and the Coshocton (Ohio) Age. The trip, resulting from popularity contests, embraces a visit to Washington, Mr. Vernon, Richmond, Jamestown, Baltimore, New York, and Pittsburg. After luncheon yesterday they visited Mount Vernon and last night went to the Library of Congress. They leave this morning for Jamestown.

Those in the Ohio party are: Misses Estelle Emery, Clara Bucy, Anna Stare, Maude Botts, Marie Beutz, Alice L. Young, all of Newark, Ohio, Mildred Hayes of Utica, Susie Davis of Atherton, Florence Madden of Hebron, Hannah Beaver, Earle Goff, Cora Dair, Maggie Taylor of Newark, and Ethel Stanton, Nellie McCormick, Minnie Bonham, Minnie Keen, and Sue

McCartin of Coshocton, while Mrs. H. R. Emery of Newark is the official chaperone.

Neighbors Got Fooled. "I was literally coughing myself to death, and had become too weak to leave my bed; and neighbors predicted that I would never leave it alive; but they got fooled, for thanks be to God, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery. This King of cough and cold cures, and healer of throat and lungs is guaranteed by F. D. Hall, druggist, 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Sharon, Pa., Aug. 8.—The leaders won today after the Medicine Men held them down to one run in the eighth. It looked as if the locals would cop the first game of the series until Pitcher Johnny Yoedt, a recruit from the Interstate league, sprained his ankle fielding a ball. There were two men on bases at the time and a safe hit through the infield brought in two more runs for the Molders. The Sharon infield weakened in the ninth and the visitors copped three more.

Uncle Joe Locke passed six, but held the Pennsylvanians down to three stung bingles. Yoedt did well for the homers, holding them down to a half dozen hits in seven and a third innings, passing four men and fanning four.

The Newark team is certainly composed of a bunch of fast ones, and will come very near running away with the rag. Both their infield and outfield cannot be surpassed by any team on the circuit, and the players state that they are in the best of condition and intend to put up a fight of fights.

In yesterday's game Snyder hit a three timer, and Haval, Winter, Snyder and Gygli each sacrificed, and Winters, Gygli and Pearce stole a base.

The team will play again today and Friday after which the visitors go back to Youngstown where they play the Champs Saturday.

Pearce is feeling very good over his release and states that he is well satisfied to become a member of the Red Leg aggregation. He will finish the season with his team mates and report to Hanlon about September 25. He is confident of the Molders finishing at the top of the heap.

Yesterday's game was long drawn out, and was not finished until nearly five o'clock. The score:

Youngstown won both games of a double header with Mansfield yesterday. The visitors had a chance in the first game. Ed-felt's wildness made the second game a walkaway. He passed six batters

Winter, and Gygli each were credited with three safeties at Sharon yesterday.

Again did your Uncle Joseph deliver the goods to the Three S aggregation at Sharon town.

The Cheese Man was up four times but didn't get a hit. Must have been an off day.

The Sharon infield went to pieces in the ninth. They couldn't stand the awful pace of the leaders.

The Youngstown sport writers' dope about the Newark team which they have been palming off to the dailies in the larger cities, don't go down with the readers any more, as the daily scores tell a different tale.

"Quality will tell," you bet it will, Mr. Youngstown Telegram. It has been telling right along for the past six weeks hasn't it?

It must be an awful thing to have that jealous feeling. Well, it can't be helped by some people. In other words, it is excusable.

It is rumored that Ed Ashenbach intends to buy the Birmingham club, where Bob Drury is managing and transfer the franchise to Schenectady, a town where Sunday games can be played. "Ash" won the New York State league flag with Scranton last year and would like to get back there, it is said, at the head of his own club in preference to staying in the A. A.

Hugh Jennings wants Pitcher Summers of Indianapolis with his Tigers right away. It is said that the Detroit management will give Watkins Pitcher Eubanks and Willetts, and a thousand dollars in cash for immediate delivery of Summers.

Norman Elberfeld has promised to be good and will get back in the game with the New York Americans as soon as he is cured of a sore throat.

Hugh Jennings admits that the Athletics are strong contenders for the American league championship, and praises Jimmy Collins highly.

Director of Athletics Stagg of Chicago university is scouting high and low for a kicker to fill Walter Eckersall's place on the football eleven this fall.

The reform mayor of Frisco threatens to put the boxing game to the bad. The wave of goodness has nearly drowned San Francisco's sporting element.

Schweitzer's drive which won the game from the Champs Tuesday was a line fly short of and to the right of Curley Blount, the Curly one being unable to reach it.

Five times did opportunity knock at the Champs' door in the recent game with the Molders, but the Laddie shoed the good game away.

At Youngstown Tuesday in the ninth with one down McClintock singled, and Bannon was laid away by Smith making one of the year's finest catches just over the foul line. McClintock attempted to steal second and was easy. He forgot all about Bunney's quick delivery and the Champs gave up the ghost.

Good umpires are just as scarce as good ballplayers, according to President J. D. O'Brien of the American Association. O'Brien was on a still hunt for promising arbiters through Pennsylvania and Ohio last week, but he failed to discover any indicator handlers of more than passing ability. "I looked over several men who had been recommended to me," said O'Brien yesterday, "but they all have one glaring fault and that is lack of judgment. There are a number of men who can call balls and strikes perfectly, but as soon as they get in a pinch they lose their wits, and then everything blows up."

Columbus nosed out Milwaukee yesterday by a score of five to three. The Senators we believe, have at last hit the right trail.

Toledo followed in the wake of the Senators and cleaned up on the Kansas City Blues by the same score, 5 to 3.

Thursday's Enquirer published a double column likeness of Bunney Pearce, and also a good likeness of Eddie Asher, and stated that the big fellow would become a Red Leg at the end of the season if negotiations went through.

Newark's team of fast ones is attracting more attention from managers of major leagues than any minor league in the country.

Talk about a city getting thoroughly advertised Newark is certainly getting her share. We venture the opinion that the sale of the crack catcher of the Molders, Bunney Pearce was published in every paper in the United States where baseball was ever heard of.

The game at Youngstown Tuesday was one of those that from the start carried the air of a hard struggle and a grand one it was. Time and again one little wobble would have settled it. Won as it was, by a clean hit after a stolen base, the Champs have no kick.

Pitcher Walter Justus is due to go higher than the O. P. Columbus is after him and will take him on the first of next season. He is one of the best men in the O. P. league.

When "Deacon" Bartl and "Iron Man" Wiedenmann get together on the mat down at the Grand opera house tomorrow night, Akron wrestling enthusiasts will see one of the greatest matches ever held in that city.

St. Paul has made a good offer for "Cupid" Pinkney of the New Castle team. Edward Ashenbach, scout for the St. Paul club, visited New Castle in hopes of seeing the little fellow in action. He is still out of the game, however, with his bad leg. Ashenbach says he will return later and see him work.

Honestly now, what do you think of Manager Bob? Doesn't he deserve a great deal of credit for what he has done for the Newark team? Managers get more roasting than any one else on the job, and less credit. Berryhill has accomplished wonders this season and is deserving of a great deal of praise for his excellent work.

The Cheese Man is in the habit of putting one over in the right place at the right time. Al has also been fattening up his batting average lately although he was all to the bad with the big stick in yesterday's game.

Enthusiast by drawing such prize packages as Upp, Geyer, Fohl, Blue and Servatius from the O. P. league, the management of the Columbus team is now said to be angling for two more Lancaster pitchers, Harry Johns and Walter Justus.

Joe Cantillon says he fails to see how any one in the country could have done any better than Lajoie with the Cleveland club.

The Boston club has purchased Catcher Pat Donahue from the Portland, Ore., club. He is a younger brother of "Jiggs" Donahue.

It is said that Youngstown is $8000 to the bad this season. The attendance of this big punk town has been less than at any other place in the league.—Lancaster Eagle.

Manager Wright announced positively Wednesday, after conferring with Manager Berryhill of Newark, that the Champs and the Molders would play a double header Saturday. The first game will commence at 2 o'clock. Jack Compton may pitch one of the games for Youngstown.

Among the horses to be sold are the Suburban winner, Nealon, Royal Vane and Joe Nealon.

In the ninth at Sharon yesterday a base on balls, two errors and two singles netted the Molders three runs. Yoedt made a good impression, although he was a trifle wild. He pulled out of several tight places and prevented the visitors from scoring.

Locke was also wild, and passed six men, besides hitting two. Sharon scored their only run in the fourth, when Sellers and Clever singled. Whisner walked and Patterson was hit, forcing in a run.

Young Johnson was carried from the field on the shoulders of the enthusiastic fans after the game at Washington yesterday with the Naps. They cheered the youngster for several minutes after the conclusion of the game.

Manager Bob May be slated for a Better Job Next Year in Another League.

Manager Bob Berryhill is receiving the congratulations of his friends on the splendid showing he has made with the club this year. He is also receiving many complimentary notices from the press all over the circuit including one from the Akron Beacon Journal, which hands him the following:

While everybody is talking about how different members of the Newark team are going to graduate into faster company, one person connected with the leaders is perhaps slated to take an upward step, and that person has thus far been unmentioned. Who is it?

Why, Robert Berryhill, manager, of course.

During the many years which old Bob has spent in base ball, he has managed many different teams, and has brought out some of the players who are prominent in big league circles today. The New York Americans owe to Berryhill the credit for unearthing several of their crack men.

Two of the players in question are Frank Kitson and "Smiling Al" Orth. This year Bob has brought out one player whose work has had the big league scouts excited all season—"Bunnie" Pearce.

Others on the Newark team, including "Lefty" Snyder, Al Schweitzer and Ed Asher, will probably be drafted or bought, and the club ought to realize quite a tidy sum from the disposal of these men.

Berryhill has done for Newark what Hugh Jennings has done for Detroit. In fact, Bob might be dubbed the Hugh Jennings of the O. P. league. He has transformed the Newark team from a second-division outfit into an evenly going first-place aggregation, and has met with just as much hard luck as any other manager in the circuit, too, when injuries to players are concerned. When old Bob gets out on the coaching lines and lets out a few reefs in his fog-horn voice, he looks all the more like a Jennings.

Sharon, Aug. 8.—Pitcher Hawke, who was signed by Sharon following his release by New Castle, was let out last night. He will return to his home in Butler county.

ENTERTAINED THE MAYOR.

The inhabitants of Locust and Tenth streets, including his honor the mayor, were entertained Wednesday afternoon with a double header played by two amateur ball teams, namely the White Sox Jr.s, and the Blue Stars, the former team winning both games. The score:

Blue Sox 2 0 0 2 1 0 1—6
White Stars 0 1 1 1 0 0—3

JEFFRIES TRAINING

The Heavy Weight Still Ponderous. But Seems to be in Moderately Fair Trim.

Los Angeles, Aug. 7.—Jim Jeffries, portly but seemingly agile enough, has taken up handball as part of his training and may be seen every day exercising and perspiring freely, at the Los Angeles Athletic club. While his girth has not diminished as yet, the fashion in which his sparring partners ram hard punches into his stomach indicates that he is not as soft as he looks.

"Jeff" has a perfect army of boxers to work with, ranging from featherweights to the ponderous John Brink, who floored the champion in a try-out last week with an unexpected hook. Some of those on his staff are Jack Kipper, Mel Nordlinger and Freddie Maier. Joe Gans called up by telephone yesterday and exchanged the time of day with Jeffries.

FASTEST MILE
THIS YEAR
AT BUFFALO

Buffalo, Aug. 8.—The fastest mile paced this year was made yesterday afternoon by Angus Pointer in the free for all pace at Kenilworth. The track was lightning fast and Angus Pointer covered it in 2:02 1-4. Angus Pointer was made favorite only three horses facing the issue. Baron Grattan went to a break at the quarter and, after regaining his feet, broke again and was distanced. The Ironquois Hotel stake, $2000, went to Turley, driven by Ed Geers.

Carlo was fancied in the 2:20 trot but the winner turned up in Sarah Hamlin. Carlo burst a blood vessel in the third heat and went down. Dickinson escaped injury.

While scoring in the last heat, the judges removed Conrad driving Oliver Moore, and placed Benyon in the sulky. He was fined $50 for bad deportment.

Kenia, Aug. 8.—With a practically new track and larger purses than ever before, the races at the Greene county fair yesterday were considered to be the best in its history. The event of the afternoon was the 2:25 pace, a stake race which was won by a local horse. The results were as follows:

PEARY'S POLAR QUEST

Present Expedition to Be His Last, Says Explorer.

HOPEFUL OF HIS EIGHTH TRIP

Believes He Will Be Successful and Says Food Is the Beginning and End of Polar Expeditions—No Danger of Freezing to Death in Arctic Zone, He Claims.

Frederick Boyd Stevenson, who interviewed Commander Robert E. Peary on his new expedition in search of the north pole, writes as follows in Harper's Weekly:

Will he make it? I asked him this question the other day. He turned in his chair and looked at me. The muscles in his face half relaxed. Peary seldom smiles.

"I hope to make it," he said quietly. "This will be my last attempt. I believe it will be successful."

Despite the softness in his voice one felt the conviction of conquest. He gave no promise, no hint of the breaking of the far north record in 1906, when he advanced within 200 miles of the goal. There was no boasting of past achievement, no speculating on future glories.

Peary is perhaps better qualified than any other in this quest of the pole. He began it twenty years ago, and on each of the seven journeys he has made to the arctic zone he has been pushing farther and farther north. In his heart is the confidence of success on this eighth journey.

"The beginning and the end of a polar expedition may be expressed in one word," said the commander. "That is food. It is not the cold, it is not the exposure, but the failure of supplies that wrecks the enterprise. Three things are actually needed for food in the north—pemmican, a dried meat that can be made into soup; ship biscuit and tea. Tea is a stimulant, so one can get along without that. Ship biscuits are a luxury, so one can get along without them. But pemmican is a necessity that one must have in the arctic region."

But a man who confesses to have eaten raw dog with a relish may not be generally considered as a purveyor of tempting menus.

"Dog meat?" Peary repeated. "Why, one who can eat hog meat or craves the delicacy of limburger cheese can have nothing to say against dog. To be sure, the hind leg of an overworked dog is a little tough and rank some times, but a man who has eaten mutton stew in a cheap restaurant cannot complain, nor is he apt to complain when the gnawings of his appetite attack him with the temperature 70 degrees below zero. The dogs readily eat their comrades when they fall by the way, and this, to a great extent, solves the problem of feeding the animals. I have considered the question of taking dog biscuit with me on my dash to the pole; but, while the Siberian dogs will eat it, the dogs which I use on my expeditions—practically all wolf—will eat nothing but meat."

"How about alcoholic drinks?" I asked.

The answer came decisively: "No man can drink alcoholic liquor who goes to the north. It would mean death to the man and a menace to the expedition."

"And smoking?"

"The man who is dependent on his cigar or his pipe might better remain at home. Why, I should as soon think of taking a man who had to have a piece of pie every so often. The personnel of your men is the first consideration. Upon them depends everything. In the first place, they must be of cheerful temperament and not subject to fits of the blues, and every man must understand in advance that he must meet the greatest hardships and self denial. He must be willing to suffer cold and hunger, to forego sleep—in a word, to be ready to sacrifice his life, if need be, for the success of the undertaking."

"Have you found such men?" He nodded.

"Yes. For the most part they are the same men who went with me before. I can trust every one of them under every circumstance."

Peary has been so long in the arctic game that the question of dress for the north has ceased to concern him. While on his sledge trips he sleeps in the open air on the ice in a sleeping bag of fur, clad only in an undershirt. When he arises, he hastily pulls on a pair of drawers which have frozen during the night. His trousers and socks are filled with snow, but he puts them on undaunted, and quickly thrusts his feet into a pair of kamiks or shoes, also filled with snow and ice, and pulling on a big fur overcoat, he is ready for his day's journey.

"One does not mind the cold in the north," said he. "The temperature ranges from 50 above to 75 below zero, and if a man takes care of himself he need suffer no inconvenience on account of the weather. There is really no danger of freezing to death in the arctic zone."

Bishop Potter's "Job."

To illustrate a point he was making in an address he was delivering the other day Bishop Potter told the following story, says Harper's Weekly: "Not long ago I was staying with a friend in a country house up on the Hudson. On Sunday morning as I passed through the library I found a small boy curled up in a big chair deeply interested in a book. 'Are you going to church, Tom?' I asked. 'No,' he replied. 'Why, I am,' I said. 'Hub,' he said, 'that's your job!'"

"Well, Henry," said the New York man who was visiting his Chicago cousin, "before I leave town I want to be sure to visit the stockyards, the art institute and the Field museum. I suppose it's an old story to you, so if you'll direct me right I'll find 'em myself."

The Chicago man laughed. "I'm ashamed to admit it," he said, "but the fact is I've lived in this town fifteen years and I've never been out to the stockyards. I never visited the Field museum, and I've never been to the art institute, although I pass it every day of my life. I guess I'll take a day off and see the sights of my own town."

He did, and was as much interested as his cousin.

"Now, when I go to New York in the fall," he said, "I want you to take me out to Ellis Island to see the immigrants come in. It must be a great sight. And I want to get the view from the Statue of Liberty and walk down the Battery."

"Sure," said the New York cousin, "I'd like to see those things once myself."—Chicago Record-Herald.

An American official in England tells the following as illustrative of a well known Scotch characteristic:

Upon his accession to the throne of Norway, King Haakon VII. was appointed colonel in chief of a certain Scotch regiment. While dressing for parade duty an enthusiastic subaltern was communicating this information to a fellow soldier:

"McDonald," said he, "have you heard that the new king of Norway has been appointed colonel of the regiment?"

"Indeed?" queried the Scot. "That's a verra fine thing now. But will he be able to keep both jobs?"—Harper's Weekly.

BOWSER FALLS DOWN

All the World Seems to Go Wrong With the Old Fellow.

HAD BEEN GOOD FOR A WEEK.

The Cook Knew Something Was About to Happen, For She Could Tell the Symptoms—He Walks the Streets For Two Hours in Dismay.

[Copyright, 1907, by Homer Sprague.]

Mr. Bowser had been very good for a week. He had taken Mrs. Bowser on a suburban car; they had gone out in the evening for ice cream; they had sat on the front steps in the gloaming, and he hadn't cursed the street peddlers who were yelling at the gate. The cook had burned her hand and was behind time with the meals, but not one single complaint from Mr. Bowser. A water pipe in the kitchen had burst, but he had got a plumber and paid the bill without a murmur. The cook couldn't help but notice the change, and in an awed whisper she said to Mrs. Bowser:

"Don't think me impudent, ma'am, but that's just the way my sister's husband was taken before he hung himself. I don't like to see it. It isn't natural."

"All husbands have their streaks," replied Mrs. Bowser, with a smile. "Yes, perhaps they do, but I call it uncanny. I hope you don't come down to breakfast some morning with your throat cut from ear to ear."

Mrs. Bowser had been married long enough to realize that there was no depending on a south wind and was ready for the change when it came. Mr. Bowser left the house one morning after kissing her in a most loving manner and cautioning her not to overwork during the day, and at 5:30 p. m., as she and the cat sat on the front steps watching for him, he got off the car at the corner. In an instant she knew that the change had come. His shoulders were hunched up and his feet dragging, and he looked around as if hoping some one would step on his coat tails. The gate was open, and he scuffed in and ascended the steps.

No, there was no mistake. He had fallen down. His goodness had departed.

"Who in thunder left that gate open?" he demanded as he passed into the house.

"Why, I think the minister did. He was here calling about an hour ago."

"Then he wants to learn what gates are for, and I'll tell him so next time I see him."

"Dinner is all ready," said Mrs. Bowser as she joined him in the hall.

Scores the Minister.

"Humph! You mean that some old frazzled steak and watery potatoes are to be set before me. We haven't had a decent meal in this house in six months, though goodness knows the running expenses are the same as if we kept a boarding house. The idea of a minister of the gospel going out and leaving a man's gate open! He probably hoped a lot of cows and hogs would get into the front yard. Wanted to spite me because I don't come to church oftener, but we'll see how it turns out. Where is your old helper anyhow?"

"Why, in the basement dining room, of course."

"Oh, 'tis, eh? I didn't know but we were to eat it on the front steps." It was a good dinner and a well cooked dinner that awaited him, but he found fault with every dish in rotation and finally broke out with:

"Mrs. Bowser, why do you keep such a bow legged, knock kneed, club footed woman in your kitchen? Here's at least three dollars' worth of food not fit for rats to eat."

"And only yesterday, when I told you that she might leave us, you told me to raise her wages $2 a month. You said she was the best cook that ever!"

"Never said a word of the kind!" he interrupted. "You can give her notice to skate. I'm a patient, long suffering man, but there's a limit."

The dinner was finally finished, and they went up stairs. They had hardly reached the sitting room when Mr. Bowser ranked off his coat and growled out:

"By the way of my father, but what in blazes ails this collar of mine? It has been aching at the throat all day. I've got more than four million collars in the house, and yet I must be pestered this way."

Mrs. Bowser stepped over and looked

MUNICIPALUNACY.

By JOHN KENDRICK BANGS.

The municipally owned electric light plant of Crawfordsville, Ind., having shown a so called profit last year of $6,727, the trustees have just made a 10 per cent advance in the charge for street lighting. The probable reason for this is a desire on the trustees' part to increase this year's profits to an even $6,800, round figures being so much more satisfactory than angular ones.

One of the pleasing features of municipal ownership, as shown in New Zealand and Australia, is the luscious, juicy stream it gives to the public debt. That of the United—sometimes called the Benighted—States is less than $12 per capita, but in New Zealand it is $335, in New South Wales $267, and in Australia's six states it averages $291 per capita. It takes genuine prosperity to increase a nation's credit—or debit—all the way from 2,200 to 2,800 per cent.

In the bright lexicon of municipal ownership there is no such word as deterioration. All city owned plants are regarded as hardy perennials which wax stronger with the passage of the years—a beautiful floral dream if only waking were impossible!

The following advertisement was received too late to be printed in our regular advertising columns:

FOR SALE.

A fine line of public utility plants, as follows:

1 Electric Light Plant, Valley City, N. D. Thoroughly Broken. Can Be Driven By a Lady. Terms Reasonable.

1 Electric Power Plant, Souderton, Pa. A Great Barren. A Child Can Run It. No Reasonable Offer Refused.

1 City Lighting Plant, Peru, Indiana. $5,000 Will Make As Good As New. Easy Terms.

1 Municipal Light and Water Works, Milford Center, Ohio. Owner Is Going Out of Business. Quick Sale Desired. Magnesia Trading Stamps Accepted in Payment.

For Further Information Apply Direct to Above Mentioned Owners.

The reports of the electric lighting plant of Lincoln, Neb., are illuminating, whether the product is or not. They show the cost per lamp to be $73.68, $50.00, $98.84. This indicates that the city authorities are kind enough to give the taxpayers a choice of figures. Usually we find cost figures arbitrarily reduced to one invincible sum, but in Lincoln you pay your money and takes your choice."

The citizens of Pottsville, Mich., having voted against the establishment of a municipal bakery, the downtrodden people of that burg will continue to lie prostrate beneath the iron shod doughnuts of the privileged classes. It really looks as though some of our deceased forefathers who fought against despotic power had died in vain.

IOWA'S GOOD EXAMPLE.

Has Made a Law Providing For Uniformity in Municipal Accounts.

Iowa is setting an example to her sister states which they would be wise to follow as expeditiously as possible. She has recently put into effect a law providing for a uniform system of municipal accounting which, if properly executed, will make it easy to see whether municipal plants are paying their way. If such a law had been in general operation fifteen years ago, it is probable that by this time the agitation for municipal ownership would have entirely ceased, in view of the damaging facts that such reports would inevitably have brought out.

Under the provisions of this Iowa law the state auditor is required to formulate and prescribe a system of municipal accounts, in preparing which he shall be assisted by an advisory committee of municipal accountants. So far as practicable the latest and most improved methods of accounting are to be adopted, and all cities and towns are required to report annually to the state auditor on the forms prescribed by him.

The auditor shall appoint one or more examiners of municipal accounts who shall at least once in two years report upon the financial conditions and transactions of all cities of 5,000 population or more and of smaller cities or towns upon request.

Run at a Loss, Not a Profit.

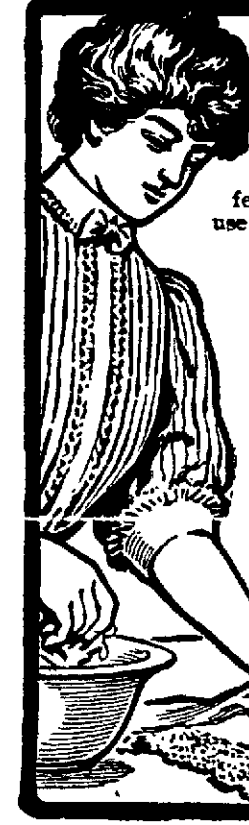

On March 31, 1906, there were in Great Britain 217 municipally owned electric light plants which had been in operation more than a year. Their reports show an aggregate profit, without any allowance for depreciation, of £396,514. As the capital cost of these plants was £33,377,734 the extremely moderate charge of 5 per cent for depreciation would amount to £1,675,857, thus showing a net loss of £1,279,343 on the year's business.

It Sounds Well, But—

Municipal ownership is one of those things which sound well in print. But, like trying to raise oneself by the boot straps, it appears impracticable. It ought to be better and cheaper, but it isn't. If it is such a benefit and such a valuable thing, why are communities breaking away from the system and returning to private companies under rigid municipal control?—Leadville (Color.) Herald Democrat.

Ward Healers on the Payroll.

The greatest evil in the municipal ownership is the crowding of the payrolls with ward healers who will not work, but who will persistently agitate for a raise of pay and put up their political influence as a reason why they should get it.—Buffalo Times.

Charles W. Fulton

(Copyright Cincinnati Star.)
United States Senator Charles William Fulton, of Oregon, was born at Lime, Ohio, on August 24, 1853, and was educated in the public schools at Magnolia, Ia. Senator Fulton began the study of law in Pawnee City, and was admitted to the bar in 1875. In 1878 he married Miss Ada M. Hobson.
He soon entered politics and was a state senator from 1878 until 1902. His law practice grew steadily, and he has been chief counsel in many important cases in the West. In 1903 Senator Fulton was elected United States senator after a strong contest. The Senator's home is in Astoria, Ore.

MUST GO TO INFIRMARY.

Columbus, Aug. 8.—The case of Frank Deal, an epileptic lunatic, is indeed a notable one. Application has been made by his uncle, "Danny" Frazer, for a hearing, but he would be of no avail as the Columbus hospital for the insane is full. He is to be kept in the Galluph epileptic hospital and will not take lunatics. The only course that remains open seems to be to take him to the poor house though there would probably be objections to this.

TURKISH PRINCE HANDED A LEMON

BY PRETTY WIDOW WHO AN-NOUNCED ENGAGEMENT TO DUTCH BARON.

"I Picked a Lemon in the Garden of Love," Accompanied the Gift of Citrus Fruit.

New York, Aug. 9.—A picturesque, yet strictly up to date method of indicating the rejection of a suitor was employed at a dinner at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria by Mrs. Mary Mc-Cavock Russell, for whose hand
Prince Zal-Zal Bey, a Turkish nobleman, and Baron Christian von Moiz,
of Germany, have been ardent rivals
for several months, and the progress of the romance has been watched with keen interest by the members of the social circle in which the nobleman and the pretty Southern widow moved.

J. W. Robinson a mine owner, gave a dinner at which Mrs. Russell's engagement was announced.

As the guests sat down a squad of waiters hastened through the doors
and placed before each diner a plate whose contents were concealed by a silver cover which when lifted revealed
a fine, ultra-yellow, juicy lemon.
And on the plate of Zal-Zal Bey was a lemon that outranked all the rest in hue and size. From behind the palms came the strains of music—"I Picked a Lemon in the Garden of Love." Prince Zal-Zal was puzzled first by the laughter of his fellow guests, but after a while it dawned upon him
that the citrus fruit signified "you lose," and he laughed heartily over the juicy present.

Then the engagement of the Baron and Mrs. Russell was formally announced. It was said today that they will be married within a fortnight.

The social circle in which this all occurred hasn't seen much of Prince Zal-Zal since he was "handed the lemon," and at his former address it was said today that he had moved.

SAFE HAVEN

For Elopers in Newark if "Ma-in-Law" Insists on Using the Horsewhip on Chester.

In a recent issue of the Coshocton
Times this appeared:

"I'll fix him," said Mrs. Doyle this morning when she heard that Chester Benson had eloped with her daughter last night. "Just wait until they get back, and I'll horsewhip him within an inch of his life."

The Advocate does not know where Chester and his bride are at present, but as this paper reaches the most remote corners of the globe, Chester
will be sure to see this, take warning and maybe duck the licking, and come to Newark and settle down and raise a family.

Chester is a dead game man, and should not be abused. Lots of young men get the fever and do not care
two dimes and a nickel what pa
and ma say when they pick out the girl. Parents here have gotten used to it, and while they don't like to loose their daughters they make the best of it, and when they come back from the bridal tour they receive the loving couple with open arms. "God bless you! my son! God, bless you!"
and at once build 'em a house on a lot that had probably been vacant for 25 years.

Yes, Newark is growing all the time, weddings, any old kind, and hustle makes a town grow.

TRAFFIC MANAGERS TABOO PANIC REPORT

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Traffic managers and other leading railroad men of the central west have answered the pessimistic predictions of coming disaster squarely, in a symposium issued today. The consensus of opinion is that crops are abundant and healthful
and unless there are freaks of extraordinary character in weather, the nation will soon gather another rich yield of bread stuffs, grain and textures. Corn is flourishing everywhere. The wheat scarcity panic, created for market effects, is found to have been without sufficient reason.
These reports emanate from experts whose business it is to travel over the numerous trunk lines and obtain exact information as to crops. Their estimate of the harvest is as reliable
as if it was made by the government.

Big Colorado Fire.

Colorado Springs, Colo. Aug. 8.—
Three-fourths of the Golden Circle Mining company's $1,000,000 reduction plant, located in the foothills south of Colorado City, was destroyed by fire.
The loss is estimated at $750,000, insurance $300,000. Thirty-seven freight cars standing on sidings near the mill were consumed. The plant formerly was known as the Telluride mills. The mill was the largest cyanide plant in the west. It has been in operation
but a few weeks.

Twenty creameries in the northwest

ized creameries in Sioux City, St.

I. O. O. F. PICNIC AT GRANVILLE WAS A BIG SUCCESS

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE ATTEND-ED THE OUTING AND EN-JOYED SPORTS.

Newark Odd Fellows Were Beaten in Game of Baseball—Good Program of Sports.

Granville, Aug. 8.—Wednesday, August 7 was a gala day for the Odd Fellows of Licking county. It was the occasion of their annual picnic, and this year it was held on the beautiful campus of Denison University.

The committee of arrangements
was composed of the members of Myrtle Lodge and Spring Valley Rebekah Lodge of Granville, and nothing was left undone that would tend to the success of the occasion.

There were several hundred Odd Fellows, together with their families and friends, on the grounds at an early hour. Everything had been arranged for a grand time and those who were so fortunate as to be in attendance had it. From early in the morning until a late hour in the afternoon there was something doing all the time that afforded amusement to those present.

At 10 o'clock the ball game between Hanover and Newark Odd Fellow teams was called on Beaver Field, and the Hanover team scored quickly, making 22 runs during the game to Newark's 3. The game was without spectacular events, and the way the boys from Hanover trotted home made one weary. The superior playing of the Hanover team is due to the fact that the members of that team have more time to play ball than the members of the Newark team have.

At the conclusion of the game all repaired to the campus where a fine dinner was served, to which all did ample justice.

After dinner the Odd Fellows and their friends assembled in the Chapel where the exercises were opened by singing "America." The address of welcome was delivered by Prof. C. L.
Williams, which was followed by addresses on "Odd Fellowship," by Frank Slabaugh of Hebron, and P. M. Rankins, Past Representative to the Grand Lodge of Newark.

The races formed the principal attraction of the day, and were held on the campus, with the exception of the wheelbarrow race, which was held on Broadway in front of the postoffice.

In the race for boys under 12 years old, R. Robins of Granville was first, and L. Snelling of Newark second.
The prizes were a book and knife.

In the jumping contest N. Scales won the book and D. Ornsdorf won the elegant pocket knife.

The prize of $1 to be awarded to the Odd Fellow present having the largest family, was won by E. A.
Howard of Newark, his family consisting of himself and wife and eight children.

In the egg race Mrs. Snelling won first prize, a fine fruit dish; Mrs. Anderson won second prize, cream pitcher and bowl, and Mrs. Fraeick won the third prize, a handsome dish.
Mrs. Snelling won the hammer in the nail driving contest.

The peanut race was won by Mrs.
Neibling and Mrs. Yost. They were each given a prize of $1.

The foot race for girls between 7
and 12 years, was won by Helen Yingley. The prize was $1.

In the baby contest the judges decided that the prettiest baby was Clara Vandenberg, and that she was entitled to the prize of 50 cents.

The wheelbarrow race was won by W. E. Forsythe of Granville, and he was awarded a prize of a fine razor.
The handsome prize offered by Mt.
Olive Encampment, No. 12, for the best drilled Chevalier was won by A.
Thomas of Canton Olive No. 90 of Newark.

Canton Olive then gave a fine exhibition drill, which was greatly appreciated, after which the members marched in a body to the home of Elzie Bolin, a member of the Canton, who is quite sick. The visit of the Canton was greatly appreciated by Mr. Bolin.

The picnic is one long to be remembered by those who were in attendance, and when they left in the evening it was with the wish that such enjoyable events might be of more frequent occurrence.

FARMER DIED WHEN DINNER BELL RANG

Mr. Harvey Johnson of near Glenwood died Saturday morning while dinner was being served. He had left the men to get some water and was returning with it when he heard the dinner bell and calling "dinner" dropped dead in the field. The deceased leaves a widow and two children, Mrs. Nellie Ridenhour and son Noah Johnson. The funeral was held Monday at Brownsville and the services were conducted by the Rev. Mr.
Wease and Rev. Mr. Dowden of Brownsville.

DAYTON MAN WEDS SAME LADY TWICE

IT'S MERELY A QUESTION OF NAMES BUT OCHLMAN
WANTED TIGHT KNOT.

Toledo Girl Stood Guard While Pals
Robbed Candy Store—Buckeye
News by Wire.

Dayton, O., Aug. 8.—William J. Oehl-man, 22, will wed his wife, formerly Miss Helen Weischiell, whom he married only last Wednesday. It is a question of names. Oehlman, though he had gone by the name of William J. Krebs since infancy, when his father died and his mother remarried, was refused a marriage license early last Wednesday because he insisted on using the name Krebs. But love changed his view, and as Oehlman he led the lady to the altar. However,
the name Krebs still sounded mighty well to him, and he began legal proceedings that will enable him to adopt
it. Said cognomen having been an-nexed, he will wed the blushing bride.

Had a Gay Time.

Bellaire, O., Aug. 8.—Garbed as a boy, Mrs. Grafton Dinger, 16, cut a wide swath here. She struck up an acquaintance with some boys of her own age and was first seen in a park smoking cigarets. The party raised a hot time on the Bellaire streets until arrested late at night by the police for disorderly conduct. At police headquarters she broke down and confessed her sex. Her mother was notified and took her home. Mrs. Dinger is the girl who, a few months ago, was found under the porch at her home, having eloped with young Dinger to Cumberland, Md.

Girl Stood Guard.

Toledo, O., Aug. 8.—Iva England, a 19-year-old girl; Earl Thompson, 22,
and Fritz Simmons, 40, were arrested on the charge of burglarizing the confectionary store of J. E. W. Klein.
The girl admitted that she stood guard in front of the store while Thompson entered it and secured goods of nominal value. Simmons also admitted his complicity. It was while Thompson was confined in the county jail about 18 months ago that Iva England attempted to smuggle him
some fine saws in a bunch of bananas.

Dayton Nominations.

District of Columbia with robbing Leon W. Desmond of $70 on May 13, 1905, were arrested by a United States marshal. Upon being taken before Judge A. C. Thompson of the United States district court they admitted their identity and will be returned to Washington for trial.

Noble Mail Carrier.

a local mail carrier, begun suit for divorce from his wife, Julia White Brown, charging desertion. Brown, who has been divorced three times, is said to be a member of the English nobility.

Drowned in the Maumee.

Defiance, O., Aug. 8.—While canoe racing on the Maumee river the boats of Karl Krotz and Victor Mansfield became entangled, and both young men were thrown into the water and drowned. The bodies were recovered.

Somnambulist Gets Fall.

Wellston, O., Aug. 8.—Effe Meadows, 17, acquired the habit of walking in her sleep more than a year ago.
Effe perambulated once too often as a somnambulist, and fell down a flight of stairs. She broke her collarbone and received internal injuries from which she may not recover.

Order of the Serpent.

Defiance, O., Aug. 8.—A unique order was launched here, the military

CURIOSITY CAUSED THE LAD'S DEATH

Lancaster, O., Aug. 8.—Deeply interested from the age of four years in his father's profession the 11-year-old son of Dr. Lebeus Dwyer determined to find out what effect chloroform would have on him. Reclining on a bed, he placed a bottle of the anesthetic to his mouth and inhaled the fumes.

He soon became unconscious and the bottle fell from his hand, the contents spilling on the bed, adding to the fumes the boy already had drawn into his lungs. A few hours later the boy was found dead on the bed.

Dr. Dwyer recently came here from Greenfield, Ohio. The body will be taken to that city for burial.
